

SRP Planning Workshop

Prize Follow-up

There is organization called Tis Best that is dedicated exclusively to charity gift cards. I decided to go with them last summer. It offers the kids the opportunity to review a variety of charities and make a decision on which organization they want to donate to, so it is more personable. I donated the $10 gift card last summer and it was a popular item and several kids thought it was cool. The teens put raffle tickets in bowls for a variety of items. The board was a bit on the fence about the purchase so I did it myself and suggested it could be an experiment. I am a fan of Heifer but this is another option.

<https://www.tisbest.org/Default.aspx>

Kim Graff, Rensselaerville Library